National Board of Chiropractic Examiners Contributes Grant in Support of Foundation for Chiropractic Progress

CARMICHAEL, Calif. – May 30, 2013 – The Foundation for Chiropractic Progress (F4CP), a not-for-profit organization dedicated to raising awareness about the value of chiropractic care, is pleased to recognize the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners (NBCE), the principal testing agency for the chiropractic profession, for its grant in support of the F4CP positive press campaign. The generous contribution will bring attention to the advantages of chiropractic education via press materials.

“We are excited to partner with the Foundation for Chiropractic Progress and the Association of Chiropractic Colleges to promote chiropractic as a career choice,” says Dr. Norman Ouzts, president, NBCE. “Our future is dependent upon new people entering our profession.”

Established in 1963, the NBCE is a not-for-profit organization that develops, administers, analyzes, scores and reports results of standardized national examinations. The NBCE establishes and maintains consistent high standards of excellence in the chiropractic profession and chiropractic education through superior examinations.

Grateful to have gained the support of the NBCE, Kent S. Greenawalt, chairman, F4CP, states: “Similar to the F4CP, the NBCE is dedicated to adherence of the highest standards in advancing the chiropractic profession. I am thrilled that the organization has elected to support our campaign -- and hopeful that others will follow its lead and invest in the future of chiropractic.”
